

MMS Teacher-Learner Profile

The purpose of this Teacher Learner Profile is to have you engage in reflective thought about who you are as a teacher-learner and for you to establish goals that will support student-centered instruction and achievement. Information from your profile will be used to tailor PD and coaching to your growth, needs, and interests.

Learner Strengths: How do I learn best? How do I interact with others?	1) Must-Do Inventories: (~5 minutes each)            a) Leadership Compass            b) 5 Languages of Appreciation in the Workplace            c) The Five-Minute Personality Test (new staff only) 2) May-Do Inventories:            a) Color Code (Select the free test/basic analysis.)            b) Thinking Styles            c) Core Value Summarize your results for each inventory, and include any additional learner strengths you have identified in yourself. You may want to consider: How do your strengths and personality traits impact your interactions with students, families, and colleagues?
Talents &amp; Passions: What do I love and excel at?	1) Describe your teaching strengths.            2) Describe what you are passionate about learning and teaching.
Interests: What am I interested in learning about?	1) Our school-wide goals identified by the principal are building relationships with students and engaging students through personalized learning. Based on these goals, what specifically are you interested in learning deeply about? Feel free to include any relevant personal interests.
Wants/Needs: What do I need to help me learn &amp; grow?	1) Identify a focus area that you want or need to learn more about to support your professional growth and explain why. Be specific.
Goal Setting &amp; Progress Data: What is my goal and how will I achieve it?	1) Write ONE professional growth goal you have for the 2019-20 school year. Your goals should be clear, specific, and actionable. Click here to see a resource for writing SMARTER or PEERS goals. Your goal will be the basis for professional growth conversations &amp; coaching support. 2) Describe how you would like to be held accountable for your goal in order to reach success. 3) Describe the support you will need to reach your goal. Please upload your completed profile to the Lesson Plans Google Classroom by or before December 20, 2019.
